From MO, this couple & their music & story of encouragement have received major attention from the media, including the Oprah Winfrey Show, Woman's World Magazine, & more! philandpammorgan.com

Gospel music recording artists Phil & Pam Morgan will be presenting their "Gotta Keep Walkin" Tour. "Gotta Keep Walkin" is not only the title of their new CD, it is a triumphant theme considering Pam was told she would never walk again. The husband wife team from Kansas City MO began singing gospel music full-time in 1996, but their ministry came to an abrupt halt June 4, 2000 when the couple's van crashed into a bridge. Pam was thrown onto the roadside, suffering numerous injuries including a broken neck that left her completely paralyzed from the chest down. Top surgeons said she would never feel or move most of her body again. The couple immediately began a prayer chain from their website that soon circled the globe. Much to the doctor's amazement, feeling and movement began to gradually return to Pam's lifeless limbs. Over the period of a year she progressed from being wheelchair bound to walking unassisted. The specialists still have no explanation for Pam's miraculous recovery, but the Morgans attribute her healing to the power of God. Exactly one year after the accident, Phil and Pam walked into a Nashville studio to record a project entitled Living Proof. Now their ministry takes another step forward with their new "Gotta Keep Walkin" CD. Phil, a talented songwriter, contributed most of the songs on this project as well as many on their previous recordings. The message of hope and encouragement has touched lives around the world through recent media attention. Their story has been told on Oprah, Montel, TBN, Discovery Health's "Only A Miracle" and the 700 Club, as well as in many national newspapers and magazines including Woman's World. Their music can be heard on Christian radio across the United States, Australia, and Europe. Phil and Pam's live concerts are an unforgettable blend of music, humor and heart-to-heart honesty, inspiring audiences to keep walking with God. This is an inspirational evening you will not want to miss!
